*****

With a view to increasing the value of the final forecasts of crops it has been proposed that in future these forecasts should state the date on which in the particular year the harvesting of the crop under report had begun. It is believed that they can be furnished without causing extra trouble to district officers.

2. With the approval of the Government of India, I have the honour, therefore, to request that you will be good enough to arrange that in all future final forecasts of crops the date at which the general harvesting of the crop in question was begun in the year under report should be shown, and it should also be stated whether that date was early, normal or late.

3. In a few cases, as for instance, the late sesamum and cotton crops in Madras and the late cotton crop in Bombay, it is probable that the harvesting is not begun till after the date of the final forecast. In such cases the date of first harvesting in one year and the circumstance that the said date was early, normal or late should be recorded at the time, but may be reported when the first forecast for the succeeding crop is made.
